

Case study

Job title: Renewable Energy Investment Manager

Client: UK developer, owner and operator of housing, property and infrastructure

Our client was struggling to recruit a development manager for their renewables team. Having already engaged with two suppliers without success we were contacted to assist.

Following initial dialogue with HR a conference call was arranged with the hiring manger to talk trough the business and requirements in detail.

Following an extensive search of our networks alongside a bespoke advertising campaign. itecopeople developed a shortlist of candidates and after numerous individuals were interviewed a preferred candidate was selected and taken forward.

itecopleople ensured that the subsequent offer was on key and a successful appointment made.

After placement follow up discussions were carried out to ensure the candidate was settling in well.

Testimonial: [itecopleople] were very supportive and results-focused in their approach. In spite of the challenge posed by our unique requirements, they took time to understand and work to that brief. They worked with us closely and quickly to find the best person for what was a difficult to fill role. I recommend them and will certainly use them again".
