

Case Study

Job title: Managing Consultant

Client: Specialist Multi-disciplinary Consultancy

A crucial need was identified to appoint a managing consultant to focus on environmental markets for this specialist market assurance a regulatory focused consultancy.

Again itecopleople utilised their extensive network to identify a suitable candidate.

This hire was just as much about cultural fit as it was technical and sector understanding. We drew on our understanding of our clients culture developed through a long term partner approach and our ongoing communications with prospects within our network to find the right fit.

Since the candidate had numerous ongoing commitments from historic contracting arrangements, we also played an integral part in helping to find a solution so they could start quickly whilst finishing off historic commitments.